

Have a passion for TV and film?

Want to learn more?

The New Media Factory invites you to join a series of free introductory location crew training courses.

The two-day courses are ideal for anyone with a desire to update or learn more about today's skills for TV and film.

No qualifications are needed, although you must be passionate about the broadcast industry and live in the East Border Region of Armagh, Antrim, Down, Louth, Meath and Monaghan.

Courses run for two full days from 9am – 4pm in Newry.

The New Media Factory Project provides training, practical work experience and support at the Bright Room high definition post-production facilities in Dundalk.

Application forms can be downloaded from www.thebrightroom.com
